PROFILE

PROFESSIONAL CREDENTIALS

DAVID THOMAS TOUGH

From the Cannes Film Festival to primetime Television, the ubiquitous work of David Thomas Tough is heard around the world.

David (aka Dave Tough) is a consummate songwriter, engineer, producer and performer, whose work has garnered a Grammy Award nomination, two awards from the John Lennon Songwriting Competition—including Grand Prize Winner—among many other awards and acknowledgements.

Making music has been a part of Dave's life from birth. Born in Springfield, Missouri, his mother was a nurse, who always played the Broadway Songbook, and was a huge fan of Broadway musicals. His father, an attorney, was a rocker, and led bands (vocals, guitar and piano) throughout his teens. The mold was set.

Dave was improvising rhythms and melodies on piano and drums as early as four years of age, making up little songs of his own. He started playing saxophone in the school band when in the fifth grade, and transitioned to drum set and drumline in high school. He also played guitar and bass, played in garage bands and received his Eagle Scout during this time. Dave was "the kid" in high school who taught everyone in his bands what to play on their instruments, as well as overseeing the production and recordings in his basement.

Attending the University of North Texas (UNT) to study Jazz, he had the good fortune to study under Jazz great Ed Soph on drum set. After graduating from UNT, he relocated to Los Angeles, where he worked at Warner Chappell Music Publishing, BMG Music Publishing and TAXI, and also served as a business consultant for other music companies, including Transition Music and Warner Music Group.. In the midst of all this, he even had a short stint as a radio DJ!

After receiving his MBA from Pepperdine University, Dave once again relocated, this time to Nashville. While writing, performing and recording for bands, including the Academy of Country Music nominated "The Lost Trailers," he completed his work for a Doctor of Education at Tennessee State University. Since then, Dave has contributed songs to nearly 50 motion pictures and nearly 100 Television productions, music videos and video-games. There are also scores of artists who have recorded his works.

Dave also has two of his own YouTube Channels, “Producer’s Room with Dave Tough” and “Producer’s Room – Dave’s Ways,” with nearly 3,000 followers. Another part of his life is developing and mentoring young artists just starting in the music business.

In early Fall, 2016, Dave found himself suddenly experiencing night sweats and shortness of breath when walking down the street. He was diagnosed as having the heart of an 80-year-old. After a month of treatment, it was determined that he would require a heart replacement. It took five weeks from when Dave went to the Cardiovascular Intensive Care Unit, to when he got the heart transplant at the Vanderbilt Transplant Center, which is one of the world’s busiest heart transplant centers. Today, a grateful Dave Tough continues to effectuate magic in his work.

Dave believes his life has been greatly provided for by the intervention of a higher source.

“I believe Creation is our human attempt to mirror the Creator and the creation around us. I believe all of us can be a conduit for the Creator. If you listen hard enough, you will hear God’s voice all around. One of my favorite quotes is from Mother Theresa...”

‘I am a little pencil in God’s hand. He does the thinking. He does the writing. He does everything, and sometimes it is really hard, because it is a broken pencil, and He has to sharpen it a little more.’

Dave also follows the advice of Quincy Jones. At one of the annual ASCAP events, “I Create Music Expo,” in Hollywood, Mr. Jones advised aspiring musicians to understand the science of music, and to have “...humility with your creativity, and grace with your success. It’s really important because it’s not really you,” Jones said. “You’re a terminal for a higher power.” This echoes Dave’s sentiments.

Dave and his family are a residents of Nashville, Tennessee.
